Plenty of Proof

From People You Know—From Norway Citizens

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Norway, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it: M. M. Kilgore, Danforth Street, Norway, says: "I had backache and rheumatic pains for more than a year, caused by disordered kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly and I was so lame and sore across the small of my back I could hardly stand. At night I rested but little, and was feeling miserable most of the time. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. P. Stone's Drug Store and a few boxes cured me."

Permanent Results
Over seven years later Mr. Kilgore said: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again as I am still a firm believer in them. The cure Doan's gave me has proven permanent."

Price 60¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kilgore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Christmas Trees

School at Swift's Corner closed Friday for a two weeks' vacation. There was a Christmas tree for the children. Noble's Corner school also closed Friday and this school had been invited to take part in the Christmas festivities at the Swift's Corner school. The invitation was accepted and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed.

Promptly at two o'clock, Mrs. Santa Claus appeared on the scene with her pack and a basket of oranges, which she distributed among the children. After helping to distribute some of the present from the tree Mrs. Santa disappeared as mysteriously as she had come, leaving the children delighted with the sight of her rosy cheeked smiling face and nice motherly ways. She was heard to remark as she left the door that she was on her way to visit other schools in this vicinity. "Long live Mrs. Santa Claus," say the children.

Melissa Twitchell, teacher at Swift's Corner and Marjorie Lebroke, teacher at Noble's Corner, are spending a two weeks' vacation at their homes in Oxford. Mrs. Horace Hussey has been suffering with an attack of neuritis the past two weeks.

E. T. Judkins recently sold a cow to Gould and Weston.

Mrs. Edith Pike of Gorham, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. G. D. Herick, has returned home.

Mary Morse and Blanch Hersey, who attend Norway high school, are at home for the holidays.

Fred Herve, who has been sick with pneumonia, is able to be about again.

Mrs. C. G. French, who has been very sick, is much improved at this writing.

The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. French, who has been ill with pneumonia and under the care of a trained nurse, is gaining nicely.

Charlie Herick, who has been sick with small pox is so to be out again. The quarantine was lifted some time ago as there were no other cases developed.

Mrs. Ellen Farnham, who has been ill with pneumonia, is thought to be gaining.

Iva Robinson of Oxford, who teaches in the Chapel district was obliged to close her school one week early on account of sickness among the scholars.

NORTH WATERFORD

A Successful Spasm
Saturday night was ideal with good automobiling and a good crowd sat down to the nice oyster supper at the grange hall. After supper a short program followed consisting of recitations by Winola Kilgore and Helen Lovley. They got lots of applause and deserved it.

Mrs. Kate Saunders, in her usual good form, sang, "Don't You Remember the Time," with mandolin obligato and was recalled. Before the dance started boards and boxes had to be added to the seating capacity. There were one-steps, waltzes and contras on the order, intentionally speedy, with no waits, so as to crowd as much fun as possible into the few hours. The players entered into the spirit of the thing and without doubt held the non-stop record. The orchestra consisted of Chas. Stearns, drums, Lin. Flint, violin, Harold Saunders, piano. From the encores we think the dancers had a good time. Several towns were represented and many hoped they'd have another spasm.

LOCKE'S MILLS

A Poultry Rhyme
G. A. Tirrell of Locke's Mills has made the following comments on his wife's talent for raising poultry, made in something of a poetic vein.

My wife is in the poultry business, no I should say she's raising eggs.

She likes the hens with feathers white, with comb a deep, dark red. Their legs are yellow as can be, she knows the proper bird.

To save for raising chickens and keep the strain just right. The houses have to be so clean a man's no business there. Sometimes I think she makes the hens wash up and comb their hair. One thing I know, it may be right, I have to step around. To fix the proper kind of yard to let them to the ground.

The hens they talk and seem as pert when wife is around. If I go near they act as queer and fly about the house. Or sometimes break the windows or bloody up their heads. Wife says, "You scare the biddies so, I expect to find them dead."

But I will say one thing sure, I like the eggs to eat. And wife seems to have the cash to keep the hens in food. I let her go; she likes the hens, I like to know she is doing as she likes to do, and oftentimes I find a dish of chicken stew on the table.

SUMNER

Lizzie and Bennie Stimond of Livermore are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Robinson.

Sherie Leslie and Bert Crowell are in Lewiston working.

Henry Coolidge has gone to Lewiston. Pearl Robinson and Albert Davenport, Mrs. Guy Turner and Mrs. Henry Davenport and Mrs. Vesta Neal were in Lewiston, recently.

School on Summer Hill has closed for Christmas week. The scholars and teacher, Hester Bonney, enjoyed a Christmas tree, Friday afternoon, the 19th.

Louise Keene, who has been ill with tonsillitis, is improving but not yet able to go to school.

BETHEL

The Woman's Relief Corps, held its Christmas entertainment Wednesday evening, the presents being tied to a line in front of the words "Merry Christmas." Each person was blind folded and led to the line and told to select a gift causing much merriment. Each was presented a small silk stocking which contained a laughable couplet.

ANNOUNCEMENT
ABOUT MUSIC

Many customers who come into my store for some particular article of musical merchandise express surprise to see such a variety of things with which to make harmony so I have decided to try to give the public a better idea of what can be obtained here. The main idea of the store is to supply the public with what they want in the line of music. As noted in the Advertiser of August 29 I recognize that there is a great diversity of opinion as to what is needed to make harmony but whatever it is I intend to have it if I know that the people want it. So if you don't see what you want, ask for it and I will do my best to get it for you. You may not want a bass drum but the other fellow will. Perhaps you will want your growing son to have a trombone. Some folks think that all that is necessary to make harmony is some good reading matter and the less noise the better. Suit yourself about that, but here's where you can find it. From some of the letters I have received in the prize competition it would appear that music has nothing whatsoever to do with sound. More about that later.

Well here you can find Victrolas, Gramophones, records of all kinds from "Holy City" to "Casey Taking the Census," record albums, brushes, oil, grease, catalogues, sheet music and albums of all kinds of music (if I were to put in the names of the pieces they would fill many papers the size of this one) instruction books for all kinds of instruments, E flat bass horn, music stands, mandolins, all sizes, shape and prices (the best is the Gibson), violins, strings, mutes, fittings, E-string tuners, rosin, bows, cases, guitars, Hawaiian guitars, Hawaiian Sets, green cloth cases, strings, capo-tastros, china rests, harmonicas, musical saws, pianos, tambourines, and many other articles which maybe I will mention another time.

On rare occasions I have used instruments of different kinds which bear an attractive price. Just now I happen to have two used gramophones practically as good as new at a reduced price. Then there is most always the special sale sheet music 10 for 50 cents (the kind not much called for or somewhat worn at the back) 22 for one dollar—any selection. I have a used Edison cylinder machine with about 50 records which someone will get at a low price. The books which I keep for sale are high grade story books, those about musicians and music. Also carry a full line of Webster's Dictionaries and the Scofield reference Bible. Come in and let me show them to you. Maybe you can get more music out of one of these than you could out of a trombone. O, I nearly forgot the oil paintings and reproductions of the old masters. They are worth looking at if you do not want to buy. Anyway, come in and look around even if you do not want to buy anything. If you want to hear a record or two just say so and I will be glad to play them to you. If I am interested enough to sell a musical instrument occasionally and to have people have them in their homes for enjoyment I certainly should be willing to play a record occasionally here in my store to someone who has no thought of buying.

THOUGHTS FOR CHRISTMAS

Another Christmas is upon us and yet there is not "Peace on earth" and not so much "good will toward men" as there ought to be. Some people to-day ask this question, "Why is it that the world is so bad with all its religious teachings?" It is just this, it is not the fault of the religious teachings, it is because the world at large does not heed it.

As long as so many people believe that a lie is better than the truth, that fraud and deception are better than honesty, there will be but little peace on earth. There are just as good people in the world as there ever were. Those who were ever good and true are not becoming bad. Those who show bad dispositions—murderers, thieves, forgers, anarchists, etc., were always bad, they only waited for a chance to show what they were.

Some people that are good at heart are sometimes tempted to do wrong things in unguarded moments. Such ones should be pitied instead of being censured. I remember a hymn that my father used to sing Sunday mornings when he was strapping his razor more than 65 years ago. It commences this way:

"My soul be on thy guard
Ten thousand foes arise
And hosts of sin are pressing hard
To draw thee from the skies
That was long before the days of canned music. My father had an excellent voice that was strong and clear even after he was 90 years old. I cannot send Christmas cards to all that I should like to and I take this opportunity to send greetings to all readers of the Advertiser.
W. W. Maxim.

A CHRISTMAS DREAM

Hush-a-by, children,
Christmas is here,
All bright and merry
With heaps of good cheer.
Wait till the morning,
When you shall rise,
All gay, happy and laughing.
For a jolly surprise.
Polly wants a doll,
Brother Tom a sled,
Jack wants a drum,
And so does Ted.
Run, dear children,
To the Christmas tree,
Happy, merry, laughing,
And do as we.
Here comes Grandma and Grandpa
In the sleigh so bright,
Hurray for Christmas!
The turkey's just right.
Make it merry, children dear,
Smell the pies a-baking;
Now with this good cheer,
Precious mamma, cake is making.
Now for the turkey,
Brown and sweet,
John and Polly say
A pound of pudding.
Here's the pudding,
Out the string quick,
Oh, look out doors,
There Uncle Dick!
Now for the games
All of us play;
Get the bass, and all,
This glad Christmas day.
Now to bed,
All you must go;
Do to sleep,
Looking at the snow.
Christmas is gone,
The children are in a plight,
Merry Christmas to all,
And to all a good night.

Just as their exercises were drawing to a close, Mrs. Santa Claus appeared in the person of their former teacher, Mrs. Anna Royal, who came bringing a basket of goodies. For the children of each family there was a package securely tied and sealed with the request "Do not open until Christmas." A warm welcome was given to Mrs. Santa by the happy children with an invitation to "Come again." The beautiful tree was given the school by the Crouteau children. BUYING AT HOME THIS YEAR

Many good citizens have approved the plan of buying property at home and trading with the local merchants. Many thousands of dollars are spent annually in Christmas shopping in this community, and all indications point to heavier buying this year than ever before. Our dealers have prepared for this holiday, and we are assured by them that these goods will be priced down to the very limit of economy.

From week to week the advertising pages of this paper contain the choicest offerings of our live merchants. A careful reading of the ads each week will give the purchaser a valuable line on what and where to buy, and will be one of the most valuable aids of all in the Christmas shopping.

This is our town. It is what we have made it in the past, and it will be what we make it in the future. The wise bird feathers its own nest.

Prof. Nicholas Phineas has discovered that in Africa the men are not henpecked, and that is as it should be. Over there the men tell their women what to do. The married Kafir women are even compelled to speak a language different from the language used by their husbands. They are not even permitted to pronounce their husband's names. They usually refer to their husbands as the "the father of our children."

WOODSTOCK

High School Fair

Dudley Opera House was a busy place Saturday. This was the occasion of the first annual high school fair. When the doors were opened at one o'clock, the hall presented an attractive picture dressed as it was in school, class and Christmas colors. In the center opposite the main entrance was the booth decorated in the pink and white of the Ninefous Club. Here the members of the club dressed in white caps and aprons served hot chocolate and cake. Beyond this was a fir tree which bore wonderful oranges. This was in charge of Doris Goodwin and Daisy Martin of the Freshman class.

The front of the stage was decorated with bunting and banded with boughs. The entire west side of the hall was lined with the class booths. At the right of the door was the old mill pond where the vary anglor could secure trout, salmon or suckers if he was skilful. Royce Ring and Gertrude Perham were the guardians of this pond. A high arched booth in green and white was next. Here Clyde Brooks sold ice cream cones and hot buttered popcorn. Adjoining this was the freshman booth in coral and white, where one could buy all sorts of homemade candies, in spite of the sugar shortage. Helen Griffin and Charlotte Cummings were in charge. In the next booth tastefully decorated in pink and green, the colors of the Sophomore class, Marguerite Dudley displayed for sale a fine collection of fancy work.

The calendar booth in orange and black the Junior class, was attended by Ruby Willard and Ida Powers. The blue and white decorated booth at the end of the hall belonged to the seniors. Many fancy articles were on sale here by Lillian Cross. The east side of the hall was almost entirely taken up by the circus tents of Farnum and Bailey. Nearest the stage was the den of Coco-Cola, the ferocious wild man Harry Packard at the door told how this life-and-half beast was captured while Raynon Farnum and Mansfield Packard inside saw that he learned no one and occasionally fed him raw meat on the end of a pitchfork. Miss Cypher, the fat lady, dressed in a pink ball gown was enthroned in the next tent. C. W. Noyes was the "banker" here. The most popular of the side shows was the animal tent. Here Jumbo, the elephant, Nuts, the monkey, and Teddy, the bear, performed for a large audience of children both young and old. At the end of the circus tents Hittomiss, a fat old red dog, did a thriving business. Roydon Billings and Chester Kimball took in the nickles. Anita, the gray without a home, wandered about the hall telling fortunes.

Two presentations of the farce, "A Day and a Night" were given one at 4:30 and one at 8:30. The parts were all well taken. Between the acts solos were sung by Gwendolyn Bartlett and Edith Buck.

The Whitman Memorial library which for the last three weeks has been closed, on Wednesdays, has reopened for the remainder of the winter.

January 10th has been selected for the first of the entertainments to be given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. On this date Prof. F. D. Tubbs of Bates College will deliver a lecture on Mexico. Because of our recent diplomatic relations with that country and because of Dr. Tubbs' intimate knowledge of his subject, this is sure to be an interesting and educational lecture.

On January 7 the Chamber of Commerce will observe ladies' night. At this meeting all the ladies interested are to be invited.

The high school closed Friday for a week's vacation.
P. S. Andrews went to his home in Enosburg Falls, Vermont, for the Christmas vacation and Lucy Berwick went to her home in Berlin, N. H.

Former Woodstock high school pupils home from college are Lloyd Hathaway of Bates, C. Roger Lippitt, H. Quis Noyes, Edwin Perham and Homer Farnum of the University of Maine, and Mildred Perham of the Boston Conservatory of Music.

Leona (N. H.) Democrat: "News comes from Holland that former Kaiser William is still saving logs for exercises and amusement, and has just completed his 12,000th log. It is expected that he will lay aside the buck-saw long enough to write letters of congratulation to U. S. Senators Lodge, Borah, Brandegee, Moses and the others who prevented the United States from ratifying the Peace treaty and the covenant for the League of Nations, and it is not impossible that he may send each of them an iron cross."

Promoter Frank Stairs of Norway is arranging a match between Tremblay and Bolduc, the world's light weight champions. Purse is $100, Tremblay to go in on a handicap and must throw Bolduc twice in an hour. Truman will be matched with Charles E. Metro for a purse of $50. The event, if staged, will take place January 20 at Norway and a big show is promised.

Profiteering

It's the One Great Subject Under Daily Discussion
by the Great American Public

And without question in many instances there is just cause for dissatisfaction and protest. For as long as this world exists men will live whose business ideal as they see it, is to get rich quick by squeezing the shakels out of his neighbors' pocket—and on the other hand there are men who seek always to be real merchants and real citizens.

This store welcomes an investigation as to prices; it cares not whether it is Congressional, State, City, Town or otherwise as far as the clothing and other merchandise we sell is concerned.

The legitimate increased cost forced upon us by manufacturers we are compelled to pass along; otherwise our business would be transacted at a loss, but there is a vast difference between this and putting onto our goods an exorbitant profit. To make both sides of the dollar work for you is our mission. No patron ever left a dollar in this store that did not receive full value in exchange. That's why this store grows, develops and expands with true consistency—that's why we enjoy the enviable reputation of being a leader rather than a follower.

SOUTH PARISSanta Claus at School

In all the first, second and third grades of Paris schools Christmas exercises were held Friday afternoon. Besides their special school exercises which were much enjoyed by many visitors, an extra feature in these schools was given by the W. C. T. U. They have for some time wanted to do something of the kind, and it finally materialized Friday afternoon. They prepared over 100 presents which were put in big bags and after a Christmas speech by a lady of the W. C. T. U., who explained she could hear Santa coming, the various schoolroom doors were opened and Santa appeared in his long loved costume with the bag over his shoulder and the delight of the children was expressed on their dear little faces.

At the Shurtleff school Lindley Hubbard was Santa Claus. At the Porter school Mrs. George B. Morton was Mrs. Santa Claus and at the Pleasant Street school Albert D. Park was Santa Claus. The teacher of the Pleasant street school is Mrs. Fred Andrews; of the Porter school, Hattie M. Leach; of the Shurtleff primary schools, Ione Littlehale and Nina Butterfield.

At the Shurtleff school there were many visitors. The school room was decorated with the usual Christmas decorations of streamers, Christmas bells, etc. Exercises were held in the room taught by Ione Littlehale. About 2 o'clock Nina Butterfield came in from the room below followed by her pupils who filled the room. Two Christmas trees were displayed in the corners and the exercises opened with a dramatization, "At the Top of the World."

When Santa Claus appeared (a little boy) and attempted to sit down the chair tipped over and Santa fell down on the floor. Telephones were in use and the co-stunts of the little boys and girls were splendid. Elinor Haskell's sweet face was incited by a Red Cross nurse's drape. Her brother Ned, who was dressed as Santa Claus and the other children wore costumes of various kinds very attractive to the visitors. At the close of this pretty little drama, the visitors went to the room below where Mrs. Butterfield's pupils presented "The Sorrows and Joys of Santa Claus." There are 28 pupils and each one had a part. In all the exercises the children sang, gave recitations and there was one double male quartette.

Reta Shaw directed one chorus while the teacher, Ione Littlehale, was otherwise engaged. They all sang and acted their parts well.

Mrs. T. M. Davis, a member of the W. C. T. U. spoke to the children and after her very pleasant Christmas story Santa Claus came in and gave presents of books and toys to every child.
